BRIDGEPORT, KENTUCKY.

THE semi-yearly sessions of this Institute commences on the FIRST MONDAY IN FEBRUARY and the FIRST MONDAY IN FEBRUARY and the FIRST MONDAY IN SEPTEMBER, each year. The Course of Study embraces the Primary, Academical and Collegiate Departments, with the Modern Languages. The mode of instruction is thorough and scientific. To raise the standard of Female education is the great aim of the teachers, and to aid them in his, a "Visiting and Examining committee" of three will visit the school quarterly, and by their rigid examinations will prove, it is hoped, var. 'Deauxiliaries to the teachers, in exciting a spirit of energy and application. The course of instruction embraces four departments, and diplomas will be granted those who complete successfully and thoroughly a full course of study. The location is in the pleasant village of Bridgeport—five miles from Frankfort, and forty-eight from Louisville—which is unsurpassed for its salubrity and the morality and refinement of its inhabitants, making it a desirable place for the education of girls. It is convenient of access by the Louisville, Frankfort and Lexington railroad, and by daily stages from Frankfort, Shelbyville and Louisville, The young ladies board in the family of the Principal, and are treated with paternal care and kindness—enjoying, at the same time, the advantages of a refined social intercourse.

The sessions will continue twenty weeks; but pupils are admitted at any time, and charged to end of term. No deduction made for absence save in cases of protracted illness. All bills to be paid in advance. Interest charged on all suppoid bills. All we ask, is: give us the BRIDGEPORT, KENTUCKY.

Fever and Ague,

from which mankind suffer over a large part of the globe, is the consequence of a diseased action in the system, induced by the poisonous miasm of vegetable decay. This exhalation is evolved by the action of solar heat on wet soil, and rises with the watery vapor from it. While the sun is below the horizon this vapor lingers near the earth's surface, and the virus is taken with it through the lungs into the blood. There it acts as an irritating poison on the internal viscera and excreting organs of the body. The liver becomes torpid and fails to secrete not only this virus, but also the bile from the blood. Both the virus and the bile accumulate in the circulation, and produce violent constituin the circulation, and produce violent constitu-tional disorder. The spleen, the kidneys, and the stomach sympathize with the liver, and become disordered also. Finally, the instinct of our or-ganism, as if in an attempt to expel the noxious infusion, concentrates the whole blood of the body in the internal excretories to force them to cast it out. The blood leaves the surface, and rushes to the central organs with congestive violence. This is the CHILL. But in this effort it fails. Then the FEYER follows, in which the blood leaves the cen-FEVER follows, in which the blood leaves the central organs and rushes to the surface, as if in another effort to expel the irritating poison through that other great excretory—the skin. In this also it fails, and the system abandons the attempt exhausted, and waits for the recovery of strength to repeat the hopeless effort another day. These are the fits or paroxysms of FEVER AND AGUE. Such constitutional disorder will of course undermine the health if it is not removed.

We have labored to find, and have found, an We have labored to find, and have found, an which neutralizes this malarious poison in the blood, and stimulates the liver to expel it from the body. As it should, so it does cure this afflicting disorder with perfect certainty. And it does more, or rather does what is of more service to those subject to this infection. If taken in season it expels it from the system as it is absorbed, and thus keeps those who use it free from its attacks; keeps the system in health although exposed to the disease. Consequently it not only cures, but protects from, the great variety of affections which are induced by this malignant influence, such as Remittent Fever, Chill Fever, Dumb, or Masked Ague, Periodical Headache, or Bilious Headache, Bilious Fevers, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Gout, Blindness, Toothache, Earache, Catarrh, Asthma, Palpitations, Painful Affections of the Spleen, Hysterics, Colic, Paralysis, and Painful Affections of the Stomach and Bowels, all of which, when arising from this cause, will be found to assume more or less the intermittent type. This "Ague Cure" removes the cause of these derangements, and cures the disease.

This it accomplishes by stimulating the excretories to expel the virus from the system; and these organs by degrees become habited to do this their office of their own accord. Hence arises what we term acclimatation. Time may accomplish the same end, but often life is not long enough, or is sacrificed in the attempt, while this "AGUE CURE" does it at once, and with safety. We have great reason to believe this is a suter as well as safer remedy for the whole class of diseases which are caused by the miasmatic infection, than any other which has been discovered; and it has still another important advantage to the public, which is, that it is cheap as well as good. it is cheap as well as good.

July 22, 1859-by President o the Board. THE VESPER GAS, OR AIR LIGHT.

The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Conventent Artificial Light in the World!

The Vesper Gas Light has won for itself a reputation for elegance, economy, safety, and simplicity far beyond any other artificial light. The Vesper Gas fama and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of coasing as; but in brilliancy and purity of light it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimney; there is no need of daily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixture is so simple that it is not liable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burned in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure coal oil, without any admixture of alcohol or other loreign ingredient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivance, the vapor of the oil is mixed with the stmosphere, producing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The light has been pronounced, by those who have had it in constant use for months, as most pleasant to the eye while reading or sewing, there being no flicker or unsteadiness in the flame. The Vesper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in town ent Artificial Light in the World!

MERCHANTS Visiting Louisville should not fail to procure the Ves-per Gas Fixtures for their stores.

Churches, Hotels, Public Halls, and Private Residences Throughout the State can now be fitted up with these elegant and convenient chandeliers, and other beautiful gas fixtures, which add so much to the appearance of such places, and to the comfort of the home circle, and which heretofore could be used only in those favored districts embraced within the coal-gas limits of large cities.

COWHERD'S HEIRS. An action was had to sell infants real estate, wherein the Commissioners appointed to value the estate of the infants report that they are acre, ten slaves worth $4,950, and that "there And then the Senate adjourned at half past and above the debts of the estate, to the amount of $7,800." They also give it as their opinion, "that if the property above mentioned was sold, and the proceeds properly invested it would redound to the interest of said heirs. The Court having decreed a sale, Wills became the purchaser of the land, and failing to pay the purchase money in full, a rule was obtained against him ING. to show cause why he did not pay the last installis reported as having presented the following bills, it should have read Mr. ABELL:

Article 3, of chap. 86, Revised Statutes, p. 592, requires that before a Court shall have jurisdiction to decree a sale of infants real estates:

1. Three Commissioners must be appointed to report, and must report under outh to the Court, the net value of the infants real and personal

If the guardian fails to give such covenant, the in-The vote was then taken upon the motion to reconsider, and it was adopted: yeas, 48; nays, decree, sale or conveyances thereof shall be terest of the infant shall not be sold, and any

The record fails to show either a literal or substantial compliance with these conditions .-The report does not state whether the land, Mr. Abell moved to insert 12 o'clock, as the time for meeting on the the 27th: adopted.

Mr. Gohern offered an amendment to the effect that the pay of the officers and members thousand the pay of the officers and members.

The report does not state whether the land, slaves and cash notes constituted all the estate owned by the infants, nor is that inference authorized by anything contained therein. Every fact stated by the Commissioners may be true, and yet it may be that the infants are the own ers of other estates, derived from other sources than the will of their father.

But a more fatal objection to the report is that it utterly fails to state "whether the interest of the infants require the sale to be made." It Mr. THOMPSON--Military Affairs--a bill for might be said of almost every estate, whether owned by infants or adults, "that if it be sold, and the proceeds properly invested, it would redound to the interest of the owners." But did the interest of these infants require the sale of their interest in this land to be made, is the point upon which the Chancellor must be inormed; and without the Commissioners report upon this point, he has no jurisdiction to decree sale. This is as much required of them as to report the net value and annual profits of their estate. The statute has prescribed, in unmis takable terms, the duties of the Commissioners and the matters upon which they must report, and has also declared that until these duties shall have been performed, the Court shall have no jurisdiction to divest the infants of their title w land and slaves. And the plain requirements of the law not having been complied with in this case, "any decree, sale, or conveyance" of the interest of the infants, must be pronounced void.

3. The bonds executed by the guardians are also fatally defective. Instead of stipulating a faithful discharge of all their duties under the statute, as is expressly required, the bonds given and shall from time to time obey a shall become due."

shall become due."

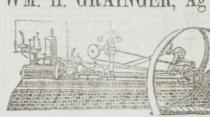

The statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales, if not re-invested, shall be kept at interest until the death or maturity of the ward, and then paid over with the accruing interest to the personal description of the statute requires that the proceeds of such sales are such as a s paid over with the accruing interest to the per son legally entitled thereto.

It is obvious that the covenant to collect and disburse the moneys arising from the sale JOHN T. ROBERTS, Agent, of such property does not embrace the duty here imposed, and would not bind the surety in the bond for the interest which may accrue upon the fund required to be loaned.

The judgment is reversed, and the cause remanded, with directions to discharge the rule against appellant.

Performed by McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, Read for yourselves:
Thomas Ford, a blacksmith, living near Cass avenue, on Tenth street, had a horrible running sore on his foot. He tried various Liniments, Salves, &c., but could do it no good. He despaired of ever being able to work at his trade again, because he could not bear any weigh on his foot; and by one small bottle of McLean's Volcanic Oil Liniment, he is now perfectly cured.

Rheumatism, paralysis, neuralgia, bruises, sprains, stiffness in the joints or muscles, swellings, sore throat, ear-ache or tooth-ache, wounds, fresh cuts, sores, burns, scalds, pains, &cc., yield to the "magic" influence of this wonderful Liniment.

But it had been threatened that Louisville would be made to feel the weight of the "strong arm of the Democracy" as soon as they got into power, and we suppose that this is the first blow. What next?

For the Commonwealth. THOMAS M. GREEN, Esq. :--

Dear Sir: -- I see from the reports of the Leg islative proceedings, in your paper, that Mr. F. Neil has "introduced a bill to regulate the du ties of Commonwealth and County Attorneys;" and having learned that it was for the re-enact and having learned that it was for the re-enact is all the control any minority can justly claim ment of the law of 1856, upon that subject, I under a free constitution; and this is never lost desire, through the medium of your columns, to offer to the members of that hody a few reasons management. If, therefore, there is a foregone offer to the members of that body a few reasons why the bill should pass. All we ask is fair play and justice, and we think that both are on as a pretext; but Kentucky dreads no partythe same side for this bill By the Revised Statutes it is made the duty of party in power respect her rights. JOHN HENDERSON

This is not a temporary popularity, obtained by extraordinary efforts in the way of trum-peting the qualities of the Bitters, but a solid estimation of an invaluable medicine, which is destined to be as enduring as time itself.

Hostetter's Stomach Bitters have proved a Godsend to regions where fever and agua and various other bilious complaints have counted their victims by hundreds. To be able to state confidently that the "Bitters" are a certain cure for the Dyspepsia and like diseases, is to the proprietors a source of unalloyed pleasure. It removes all morbid matter from the stomach, purifies the blood, and imparts renewed vitality to the nervous system, giving it that tone and energy indispensable for the restoration of health. It operates upon the stomach, liver, and other digestive organs, mildly but powerfally, and soon restores them to a condition essential to the healthy discharge of the functions of nature.

Elderly persons may use the Bitters daily as per directions on the bottle, and they will find in it a stimulant peculiarly adapted to comfort declining years, as it is pleasant to the palate, invigorating to the bowels, excellent as a tonic, and rejuvenating generally. We have the evidence of thousands of aged men and women who have experienced the benefit of using this preparation while suffering from stomach derangements and general debility; acting under the advice of physicians, they have abandoned all deleterious drugs and fairly tested the merits of this article. A few words to the gentler sex. There are certain periods when their cares are so harassing that many of them sink under the trial. The relation of mother and child is so absorbingly tender, that the mother, especially if she be young, is apt to forget her own health in her extreme anxiety for her infant. Should the period of maternity arrive during the summer season, the wear of body and mind is generally aggravated. Here then, is a necessity for a stimulant to recuperate the energies of the system, and enable the mother to bear up under her exhausting trials and responsibilities. Nursing mothers generally prefer the Bitters to all other invigorators that receive the endorsement of physicians, because it is agreeable to the taste as well as certain to give a permanent increase of bodily strength.

All those persons, to whom we have particularly referred above, to wit: sufferers from fever and ague, caused by malaria, diarrhœa, dysentery, indigestion, loss of appetite, and all diseases or derangements of the stomach, superannuated invalids, persons of sedentary occupation, and nursing mothers, will consul their own physical welfare by giving to Hostetter's Celebrated Stomach Bitters a trial.

CAUTION.—We caution the public against using any of the many imitations or counterfeits, but ask for Hostetter's Celebrated STOMACH BITTERS, and see that each bottle has the words "Dr. J. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" blown on the side of the bottle, and stamped on the metallic cap covering the cork, and observe that our autograph signature is on the

The IRON being absorbed by thus circulating through the whole system, part of the body can escape their truly wo a ful influence.

The experience of thousands daily proves that no preparation of Iron can for a moment be compared with it. Impurities of the blood, depression of vital energy, pale and otherwise sickly complexions indicate its necessity in al most every conceivable case. In all cases of female debility (fluor albus, chlorosis, etc.), its effects are delightfully renovating. No remedy has ever been discovered, in the whole history of medicine, which exerts such prompt, happy, and fully restorative effects.
